BEFORE GOING TO THE THEATRE

1. The Story

Robert Louis Stevenson writes about morality and good and evil, in his famous suspenseful tale set in London. However, in this adaptation we have updated the story.

The story takes place inside a hospital during the COVID-19 pandemic. Dr Jekyll is the most famous doctor in the Stevenson Hospital. Gabriella Utterson admires him, she joined the hospital some weeks ago and works on his floor.

Gabriella meets Laynon, a nurse who works in the morgue. She asks him about Dr Jekyll and his assistant, My Hyde. Laynon tells her that she needs to be cautious around them: it's their fault he is working now in the morgue.

One day, a doctor named Danvers, dies mysteriously. Gabriella is shocked. At the same time, Dr Jekyll becomes sick.

Gabriella asks him what he needs to recover, Dr Jekyll sends her to check with Laynon the final ingredient to a medicine called 'Goodoxine'. When she goes to the Morgue to meet Laynon, she discovers him dead.

She finds there as well Mr Hyde, Dr Jekyll's assistant. He asks her to create another medicine, called 'evilxine'.

Gabriela gets to know that her it's the bad person, so she tries to become a good person. The plans of Mr Hyde are coming down. Finally, Mr Hyde, dead. But, maybe the evilness comes again.
